TAFT LEADERS PREPARING TO USE THE STEAM ROLLER

Depend Upon Claimed Majority on National Committee to Seat Taft Delegates in Nearly All Contests.

Chicago, June 6.—Although the representation was not complete, a majority of the members of the national committee assembled at the Coliseum today prepared to enter the first day of a ten days' series of meetings which will determine the men who shall fill the contested seats of a total of 1,076 seats on the floor of the convention when it is called to order June 18.

Will Represent Taft Men.

Merrill Moores, of Indianapolis, a former classmate of President Taft, arrived today prepared to represent the Taft men in the Indiana contests.

The meeting today was expected to develop a skirmish between the Taft and Roosevelt forces which might become highly important as foreshadowing the line of fighting that will be carried into the convention. The Taft leaders, according to reports from various sources, had decided to use their claimed majority of the committee to seat Taft delegates in nearly all of the many contests.

Taft Leaders Eager.

Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, and several other Taft leaders expressed eagerness to get down to actual work of hearing contests. The Alabama contest will be called before night. The question of open or closed sessions, members of the committee tentatively had agreed to admit two representatives of each press association recognized on the floors of congress. This arrangement, it was suggested by the committee, would assure publicity on the deliberations of that body without unnecessary complications.

A conference between members of the national committee from southern states presided over by United States Senator Newell Sanders, of Tennessee, was held just previous to the opening of the committee meeting. After the meeting Senator Sanders said the members had agreed to stand solidly together for President Taft.

Want to Get At It.

In an effort to expedite decisions in the cases of contested delegates to the republican national convention members of the national committee determined to urge that the contests be taken up immediately after the preliminaries of organization were disposed of today. The change from the original plan, which was limited to matters of organization, was the result of informal conferences at which it became apparent that the work of organization in the national committee would take but an hour or so.

The mass of contest cases confronting the committee involving the rights of more than 230 delegates to seats, has convinced members that unusual measures will be necessary to dispose of them all before the national convention meets June 18. The Alabama, California and Arkansas cases were ready for submission to the committee this morning. Attorneys and delegates were prepared yesterday to submit the cases as soon as the committee should be ready to hear them.

In Three States.

In Alabama, the first state to be called by the committee, there are contests by the Roosevelt representatives for the entire list of delegates at large and from the first, second, fifth, sixth and ninth congressional districts.

In Arkansas there are contests for the delegates at large and in all of the seven congressional districts in the state except the sixth.

In the California cases the Taft contest in the fourth district is directed primarily against the California secretary of state, who refused to issue certificates to Taft delegates who received majorities in that district. His action, it is understood, was based on the ground that the state at large had indicated a preference for Col. Roosevelt.

The question of whether the meetings of the committee should be opened to newspaper men still was unsettled today.

Limited Plan Opposed.

A tentative plan to admit a limited number of newspaper men received opposition from both Roosevelt and Taft sources on the ground that it did not provide sufficient publicity of the contest arguments. Frank B. Kellogg, of Minnesota, was expected to offer a motion when the committee takes the matter up to make public the detailed vote in the committee on each contest case.

Early morning observers of the national committeemen found food for thought in the meeting at breakfast of Charles D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, and Arthur Vorys, national committeeman from Ohio. The two arrived on separate trains, but met in a dining room and after chatting as they ate conferred with members of the committee who had come in previously. Another arrival was Charles F. Booker, of Connecticut, chairman of a sub-committee on rules appointed at the winter meeting of the national committee. Committeeman Ward, of New York, and Frank B. Kellogg, of Minnesota, have since then drawn up a brief code for the government of the governing body, of the republicans.

Says Rules Are Ready.

"The rules are ready for presentation," said Mr. Booker, "but I am not at liberty to give them out. They are brief and simple, however, and have to do principally with the organization of the committee. Hitherto we have had no code for that phase of our work, but

MAY INVITE ROOSEVELT TO ATTEND DISCUSSIONS.

Chicago, June 6.—The republican national committee was called to order at the coliseum at 2:10 p. m. today by Actiug Chairman Victor Rosewater, of Nebraska. It was expected that no contests would be taken up today; the work of the committee stemped likely to be confined to organization and adoption of rules, including the question of admitting representatives of the press to the hearings.

President Taft's managers have practically decided to invite Col. Roosevelt to attend the discussions of the republican national committee during the consideration of contest cases so that he may be assured of receiving fair treatment in the committee.

The plan was first made public today and it was learned later in the day that Representative McKinley had requested members of the committee favorable to President Taft to join in the invitation to Col. Roosevelt.

MAIN INQUIRY IS TO BE DEFERREED

Real Probe of the Money Trust Goes Over Until Fall.

STATEMENT BY PUJO

New York, June 6.—Because of its lack of power to obtain necessary data the so-called money trust investigation in its main scope will not be taken up until fall. This announcement was made by Chairman Pujo of the investigating committee, at the opening of the hearing in New York today.

Mr. Pujo's announcement says in part:

"There will be no testimony taken at this time nor until the suttiing upon the main branch of the inquiry. In view of the insistence by leading financial institutions whose affairs it may become necessary to investigate that the committee is without power to enforce its demands for information, the committee adheres to the conclusion that it is not advisable to take up the main inquiry until all doubt as to the power of the committee to conduct the inquiry on the lines that it believes to be necessary has been removed by the passage of pending bill to amend the banking law, which has passed the house and is now before the finance committee of the senate.

"The committee also considers it inadvisable to conduct this important and far-reaching economic inquiry during the heat and excitement of a presidential campaign and has not from the outset contemplated any such course. The intervening time will be devoted to taking testimony on certain collateral subjects."

Who Is Paying for It?

The first witness was Prof. J. Lawrence Loughlin, formerly of the University of Chicago and now head of the National Citizens' league for the promotion of sound banking. He was questioned by Samuel Untermeyer, special counsel for the committee, as to what banks had contributed to the campaign expenses of the organization, which is supporting measures for monetary reform.

Mr. Untermeyer brought out that no contributions had been made to the organization's campaign fund by J. P. Morgan, or Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and wanted to know why. Prof. Loughlin said merely that they had not been solicited.

DEATH COMES TO HON. C. C. GILHAMS

Former Congressman Succumbs After Prolonged Illness.

DUE TO APOPLEXY

Lagrange, Ind., June 6.—Following a long illness, former congressman Clarence C. Gilhams, died at his home here at 1:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after having been unconscious since last Sunday, when physicians gave up hope for his recovery. Mr. Gilhams suffered three attacks of apoplexy, the last but a few weeks ago. For the last few days he had been sinking rapidly, and failed even to recognize members of his family.

REMAIN TEETOTALLER UNTIL A MILLIONAIRE, IS CARNEGIE'S ADVICE.

London, June 6.—Rowdy scenes marked the delivery of Andrew Carnegie's rhetorical address at Aberdeen university at Aberdeen, Scotland, today. The students, the number of whom was large, hurled chairs and rugs about the hall and kept up an incessant din, singing and whistling, but finally permitted the ironmaster to proceed. After he had begun the rowdyism was resumed, but the proceedings closed with rousing cheers for Mr. Carnegie and Mrs. Carnegie.

Mr. Carnegie advised the students to "remain teetotallers until you have become millionaires."

GOMPERS URGES BRANTLEY BILL

Says Measure Would Aid 2,000,000 Organized Workmen.

NEWS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today urged the house committee on judiciary to make a favorable report on the Brantley workmen's compensation bill. Mr. Gompers said the federation's 2,000,000 organized workmen would be benefited.

"The opposition to this measure comes from an army of lawyers, doctors and ambulance chasers," he said. "Injured workmen get but 25 or 35 per cent of the money awarded to them as damages when they are litigants. The rest goes to the lawyers and others that make a business of prosecuting damage suits."

Determined opposition to the bill has developed. Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Representative Hardwick, of that state, and Representative Henry and the Texas delegation will voice their protests to the committee before a vote is taken by the committee.

President Orders Inquiry.

President Taft today directed Attorney General Wickersham to investigate the case of L. H. Salyers, of Pike county, Kentucky, recently convicted of contempt of court and sentenced by United States Judge Clay McDowell, of western Virginia, to five years in the penitentiary. Senator Bradley and Representatives Langley and Bowers, Kyn Austin, of Tennessee, interceded in behalf of Salyers, who was held on a charge of having influenced witnesses in a moonshining case not to appear before a Virginia judge.

According to the story told the president, Salyers appeared before Judge McDowell without witnesses and without counsel and denied that he had attempted to influence witnesses, but was convicted and sentenced, nevertheless.

MISHAP THWARTS A JAIL DELIVERY

OUTSIDE MAN FLEES

Indianapolis, Ind., June 6.—The breaking of a thread leading from a window of the county jail to the ground today prevented a possibly serious jail break. Prisoners are allowed to leave their cells in order to wash and clean the jail corridors. One of those prisoners had let a thread out through the bars and a confederate outside had attached a string to the thread. Fastened to the string was a first class plate saw about a foot long. The man who was directing affairs from the outside was seen by some in a livery stable nearby and they notified the jail. The man ran when the sheriff and others went out to catch him and he escaped. The prisoner inside was hauling away patiently at the thread, but it broke. The saw was found on the ground near the window.

A similar attempt to deliver a saw to the prisoners was made less than a month ago. Sheriff Woester was unable to identify the prisoner or prisoners acting with the confederate.

GOMEZ SENDS HURRY CALL FOR ARMS AND AMMUNITION

Cuban President is Forming a Volunteer Guard to Protect Foreign Property --Battleships on the Way.

Washington, June 6. President Gomez has informed the United States through Minister Beaupre that he is forming a volunteer guard to protect foreign property, and asks that his recent order for [illegible] rifles be increased from 5,000 to [illegible] and that 2,000,000 cartridges also [illegible] President Gomez urges the [illegible] every effort to facilitate [illegible] ery of the rifles and ammunition.

With four American battleships steaming toward Guantanamo the force of marines immediately available for the protection of foreign life and property in Cuba is increased to more than 1,500.

Reserve Force Ready.

Altogether the battleships Minnesota, Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio—the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet—which put out from Key West late yesterday under command of Rear Admiral Usher, have on board nearly 800 marines. These ships should arrive at Guantanamo probably some time tomorrow. The cruiser Prairie, which already has landed 450 under command of Col. Lucas, has about 350 more on board. The four battleships of the third division of the Atlantic fleet, still at Key West with Rear Admiral Osterhaus on the flagship Washington, have nearly one thousand more marines which could be moved to Cuba in little more than a day if the situation should demand. Roughly, this places the number of marines immediately available at about 1,500 and the reserve force at Key West at 1,000. The combined forces of blue jackets on all the ships which, however, would only be landed in the most pressing emergency, easily would swell the total American force available to more than 3,500 men.

Will Relieve Cuban Army.

As President Gomez indicated in his statement last night, the assumption by the American marines of responsibility for the safety of the foreign properties in Oriente will relieve Gen. Monteagudo's army of the most onerous portion of its work and will enable their officer to begin almost immediately an organized campaign in force against the marauding bands of negro insurrectos.

It is estimated that 1,000 American marines would be fully equivalent to five times that number of Cuban regular soldiers.

The state department fully confirms President Gomez's declaration regarding the non-political nature of the American naval movement. It is intended solely to guard the foreign-owned plantations and mines at points where the Cuban government forces cannot extend protection and in that respect the status of the American marines is precisely the same as those which have been frequently landed in the republics of Central America and the West Indies in time of revolution without the slightest idea of being retained there after order is restored.

President Gomez hopes by forming the volunteer guard to relieve the regulars guarding foreign properties that they may pursue the insurgents. The Cuban president is said to be entirely in accord with the dispatching of marines to the interior for the protection of foreign lives and property. He has informed Minister Beaupre that he believes this

RIDICULES IDEA OF BOATS FOR ALL

Sanderson Holds Present Equipment is Amply Sufficient.

HASN'T SHAKEN VIEW

London, June 6.—The disaster to the steamer Titanic has done little to alter the views of Harold A. Sanderson, a director of the White Star line, as to the sufficiency of the present equipment of trans-Atlantic steamers for all practical purposes.

Mr. Sanderson was recalled by the wreck commission today and disputed the usefulness of additional life boats, of search lights, binoculars and larger crews of seamen, but he added "there is a popular cry for binoculars and extra boats and we want to satisfy it.

"There are," continued Mr. Sanderson, "certain risks coming from the sea which it is impossible to eliminate, just as there are on land."

The witness emphasized the fact that small boats were carried only for the purpose of transferring persons from ship to ship or from ship to land, and said that if more seamen were carried in order to man additional boats they would have nothing to do until there was a wreck. Searchlights, he declared, would be "worse than useless: they would be a positive source of danger. The worst thing possible for a look-out is the glare of light."

Questioned regarding the space given up for the accommodation of wealthy passengers Sanderson replied, "If there were anything more that we could do to ensure the safety of passengers the millionaires' suites would not stand in the way."

He attributed the greater loss of life among the third class passengers of the Titanic to the fact that the best posi-

EDITORS COMING IN STRONG FORCE

Democratic Newspaper Men Arriving for State Meeting.

IT OPENS TONIGHT

Leaving Indianapolis at 1 o'clock this afternoon in four special cars, more than a hundred democratic editors of Indiana, accompanied by their families and friends, are en route to Fort Wayne, due to reach this city at 5:30 o'clock this evening, for the opening session of the mid-summer convention of the Indiana Democratic Editorial association.

Accompanying the delegation are Governor Thomas R. Marshall and wife and Judge Samuel M. Ralston, democratic nominee for governor of Indiana.

Since early morning democratic editors, enthusiastic democrats and others have been coming into the city from all parts of the state and the meeting which begins this evening promises to be one of the best attended ever held by the democratic organizations. Before the close of the convention it is expected that all the state democratic officials and all democratic nominees will be in attendance.

The climax of the convention, it is declared, will occur during the public mass meeting to be held Friday night at Princess rink, at which time it is expected that Governor Marshall will make his first public announcement as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Judge Ralston will also deliver an address, making his first public speech in his campaign for governor. Among the other speakers will be Congressman Cyrus Cline.

Met by Committee.

The delegation from Indianapolis and the southern part of the state will be met at the interurban station by a committee composed of A. J. Moynihan, of

The Mysterious Letter

"IN ONE of the towns where I lived before I came here," said Rev. Alexander Evans, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, "I was surprised one day to receive a letter from a young lady, who signed only her first name, Julia, or Annie, or something of that sort. The letter went on to say that she would surely enjoy the sleigh-ride which had been planned and there were other interesting things of a very friendly nature which puzzled me as I knew of no proposed sleighride and hadn't the acquaintance of anyone of the name who would address me so familiarly.

"I had not been in the town long, and in my puzzled state of mind I appealed to a friend who read the letter carefully and then burst out with an uproarious laugh as he said, 'Why, that's the other Alexander Evans!'

"And surely it was. Well, the other Alexander and I had a great time after that getting our letters mixed, so we had to establish a sort of clearing house for our personal mail. Otherwise I might have worried about matters of which I knew nothing and he would have

MAIL CARRIERS TO FIGHT FIRES

Orders Issued for Alarms in the Rural Districts.

MAY BE A BIG SAVING

Washington, June 6.—More than 1,000,000 miles of roadway territory in comparatively sparsely settled section of country will be covered daily by a forest fire preventive force of 48,000 men as a result of an order issued by Postmaster General Hitchcock. These men are the rural and star route mail carriers, who are directed to co-operate with the forest rangers and state fire wardens in every way possible.

Last year forest fires destroyed approximately $50,000,000 worth of property. The agricultural department has been anxious to increase the efficiency and strength of its forest fire preventive service and Postmaster-General Hitchcock offered his department's assistance.

There are 42,500 rural and 13,000 star route mail carriers. Their daily routes take them, for the most part, through sparsely inhabited parts of the country, in many sections through the wilderness itself. The aggregate length of the daily routes is 1,200,000 miles, and the carriers have every opportunity to note closely the country through which they pass.

By the terms of Mr. Hitchcock's order the duty of the carriers, on observing a fire or any indication of a fire, will be to notify the nearest forest rangers or fire warden. Postmasters in or near national forest reserves are also instructed immediately to report forest fires.

DEATH COMES TO HON. C. C. GILHAMS

ily, who were with him constantly. Death came peacefully, and the stricken men slept himself away.

The ex-congressman was first stricken with apoplexy several months ago and at that time his condition was very critical, but he finally rallied and for a time was again able to take care of his business affairs and spent considerable time at his office. After the second attack [illegible] unable to leave [illegible] steadily grew worse. Two [illegible] was thought he could live [illegible] days, but his remarkable vitality served to temporarily improve his condition, but he was never out of danger, growing worse again last Sunday and lapsing into unconsciousness from which he never rallied.

Mr. Gilhams was born in Greenfield township, Lagrange county, in 1860, and was the eldest son of Aaron Gilhams, a pioneer of the county. He received his education in the schools of Lagrange county, and then entered the State Normal school at Terre Haute. After having completed his course there, he returned to Lagrange county, where he taught in the grade schools for a number of years, later abandoning his profession to enter the commercial field, and for some time traveled as a salesman.

Enters Politics.

Well known throughout the county, Mr. Gilhams was easily elected county auditor in 1894 and served two terms, leaving the office with a very commendable record to his credit. He was a powerful orator and in 1898, when the state committee was engaged in its memorable gold and silver political fight, Mr. Gilhams was called upon to mount the stump in behalf of his party, and he traveled over the state, delivering political speeches, which in a way served to acquaint him with the voters of Indiana.

In 1902 he was a candidate for congress from the Twelfth district, but was defeated by 280 votes by James M. Robinson. In 1904, when he was a candidate for congress the second time, he was defeated for the nomination by Newton W. Gilbert, of Angola. In 1906 when Mr. Gilbert resigned, to accept a judgeship in the Philippine islands, Gilhams was nominated for the place and was elected.

Mr. Gilhams was again a candidate in 1908, but was defeated by the democratic nominee, Cyrus Cline, of Angola.

Enters Business Field.

After his final defeat for congress Mr. Gilhams entered the insurance business and was the general agent for the Equitable Life Insurance company, of New York. He made a marked success in this business, in which he continued until forced to retire on account of illness.

While in congress Mr. Gilhams was a member of the committee on agriculture and it was through the assistance of him that the lakes to the gulf canal was first brought before the attention of congress. He also succeeded in getting a soil survey of the Twelfth district. Mr. Gilhams was credited with getting through more pension bills than any former congressman from this district.

His Family.

Mr. Gilhams is survived by the widow, two daughters and one son, Mildred, Margaret and Herbert, all of whom live at home. Mrs. Gilhams was Miss Lydia Keim. One brother, Herbert Gilhams, a well known educator in northern Indiana, former superintendent of the Lagrange county schools, and a half-sister, Mrs. R. L. Porterfield, also survive.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. David Truesdale. Interment at the Greenwood cemetery.

While Mr. Gilhams' death had been expected for some time, his loss comes as a great shock to his many friends and admirers in Fort Wayne and a large crowd will go from this city to attend the funeral services for the former congressman. Charles L. Biedarwolf, secretary of the Commercial club, was formerly Mr. Gilham's secretary and has gone to Lagrange to assist in making arrangements for the funeral.

Asbury Park, N. J., June 6.—As a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, who lost their lives in the Titanic disaster, prominent Jews in this vicinity are making plans to erect a national Jewish temple here.

Became Young By Auto Suggestion.

It isn't often that a hair restorer is given credit for restoring the youthful vigor of the body. But an interesting case recently happened where a lady of 55 was prematurely grey, and whose hair was thin, lifeless and faded, had made her mind she was already an old woman because of her appearance, and began to age quickly in many ways, all on account of what her mirror told her. A friend happened to get her to try a hair restorer, which permanently renewed her hair to its natural youthful color, and gave it also fullness, gloss and vigor of her girlhood days. So youthful and pretty did it make her that the drawn lines in her face disappeared, and unconsciously her stooping walk changed to a light, springy step, and beauty, youth and a light heart were again hers. Her husband was so delighted at her improvement that he, too, tried this preparation with the same effect. Miss M. Barth, 262 West Liberty St., Fort Wayne, Indiana, has this same preparation in stock, which is the only safe and scientific one to restore faded and gray hair to its natural youthful color. It is called Union Gray Hair Restorer, which is guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, by E. Pinaud & Co., Chicago. It is absolutely harmless, its use cannot be detected, it promotes a luxuriant growth and makes the hair vigorous and fluffy. If your hair is gray or faded, it will give it the richness and color that naturally belongs to it, bringing back to you a youthful, beautiful appearance. Ask Miss M. Barth about it today. 6-25-th-st

SHIVELY MAY NAME MARSHALL

Likely to Be Chosen to Present Governor at Baltimore.

PLAN THE SETTINGS

Washington, June 6.—The question as to who shall present Governor Marshall's name to the democracy of the nation at Baltimore as a candidate for the presidency, which has been the subject of much agitation and private correspondence, has at last virtually been settled. That duty, from all present indications, will devolve upon Senator Shively.

Three men have been considered for this task—Senator Shively, Senator Kern and Judge Andrew A. Adams, of Columbia City—and letters have been passing back and forth between the national capital and Indiana in the hope of reaching an understanding that will afford the person who may be delegated to make the speech opportunity for adequate preparation.

In view of the fact that Senator Kern has been widely mentioned for the presidential nomination and has quite a boom for that office, it would be decidedly embarrassing to him to make the speech placing Governor Marshall in nomination. He has hesitated, therefore, not because of any lack of friendliness for Marshall apparently, but because it would afford carping critics a chance to say that he spoke two words for Kern while he was speaking one for Marshall.

Judge Not Available.

Judge Adams, on the other hand, although a devoted friend and fellow-townsman of the governor, has shrunk from the publicity that would attend the performance, and attention has been called, also, to the fact that judges on the bench and candidates for judgeships are supposed to keep out of the limelight.

There is no drawback to Senator Shively's acceptance of the role, however, and he is willing to take on the task, it is said, if the governor desires him to do so. It is pointed out that under the customs and precedents it would be peculiarly fitting that Senator Shively should make the presentation speech, Shively is the chairman and accredited spokesman of the Indiana delegation at Baltimore. The Indiana democratic state convention indorsed Governor Marshall for president and recommended him to the democracy of the nation for that high office. Therefore, as chairman of the Indiana delegation, it devolves, theoretically, at least, upon Senator Shively to deliver the message which the democracy of Indiana sends to the democracy of the United States.

The presentation speech by Senator Shively will not be lacking in warm and cordial commendation of the Indiana executive. He will have a chance to point out that Governor Marshall is an old-fashioned democrat, who is opposed to the modern tendency toward the liquefaction of the federal constitution and the old institutions and landmarks.

It is believed Senator Shively will welcome the opportunity to make a strong speech, which will best hold the Indiana delegation of thirty in line for Marshall. Looking forward to the future of Indiana democratic politics, Senator Shively is convinced that a bad mistake will be made if part of the Indiana delegation jumps the reservation and leaves the governor in the suds at Baltimore, and his effort, in so far as his influence extends, will be to hold the delegation for Marshall from first to last.

Band to Start Noise.

Lincoln Dixon, dean of the Indiana delegation in the house, who is another ardent Marshall man, told today of some of the plans that will be arranged at Baltimore to arouse enthusiasm for Indiana's candidate. By prearrangement, when Senator Shively concludes his speech nominating Marshall, a band stationed in the gallery will strike up the familiar tune, "On the Banks of the Wabash." The delegates from Indiana will arise in their place in the convention hall and wave canes to which streamers will be attached inscribed "Marshall for President," at the same time shouting for Marshall at the top of their voices.

One feature of the arrangements provides for the distribution of large quantities of Marshall buttons of an attractive design. Marshall lithographs will be posted in all the hotel lobbies and other public places.

VICTOR BERGER MAKES IT STRONG

Congressman Sees 2,000,000 Votes for Socialists This Fall.

PREDICTS BIG GAIN

Washington, June 6.—Branding Theodore Roosevelt as an enemy, rather than a friend, of socialism, Representative Victor Berger, the only socialist who ever occupied a seat in congress, yesterday gave an interview on national political conditions and the prospect of the socialists in this year's campaign.

"The socialist ticket nominated at Indianapolis will poll 2,000,000 votes in November," said Mr. Berger, "no matter whether the republicans nominate Taft or Roosevelt and regardless of whether the democrats put in the field Harmon, Bryan, Kern, the lion dawg or the Tom cat. By Tom cat I mean Governor Wilson. Our candidate will poll 2,000,000 votes against the whole menagerie."

T. R. Not Dangerous.

Mr. Berger denied vehemently the assertion that Col. Roosevelt, as the republican candidate for president, would draw heavily from the socialists.

"There is nothing in such talk," he said. "Roosevelt is not of our kind. Taft is respected by the socialists, although we have no use for his political beliefs. The election of Roosevelt would not advance the socialist cause one iota. He cannot advance any cause but his own. He uses socialist phrases, but he is in no sense a socialist. Before he went to Africa he denounced socialists as free lovers in an article in the Outlook. Now he is playing up to us.

"We are going to fill a large section of the house of representatives with socialists in the election this year. We are sure to elect two socialists to congress in California—one in Los Angeles and the other in the Berkeley district. We will elect one in North Dakota, one or two in Kansas, one or two in Oklahoma, two or three in Ohio, two in Milwaukee, one or two in Minnesota, two or three in Pennsylvania, one in New York, etc. We will have enough socialists in the next congress to hold the balance of power on all important measures."

Threatens Impeachment.

Encouraged by a letter from Attorney General Wickersham recommending reopening of the case depriving Leonard Oleson, of Seattle, of citizenship because he was a socialist Representative Berger, of Wisconsin, today declared his intention of urging impeachment proceedings against United States District Judge Hanford, who decided the issue.

Representative Berger averred he would exercise his prerogative as a member of the house and would call up as a matter of special privilege a resolution for the impeachment of Judge Hanford. Berger laid before the president and the attorney general a copy of the record in the Oleson case and today he received a letter from Mr. Wickersham saying that "gross injustice had been done to Mr. Oleson." Oleson's certificate of naturalization was cancelled by Judge Hanford on testimony that Oleson subscribed to the principles of the socialist party.

The form of impeachment will be unusual in the house. Under the constitution a member can rise to his place and impeach a judge. It is a question of the highest privilege and under the rules must be taken up, if the resolution is adopted the judiciary committee is charged with preparing the case for presentation to the senate.

The house may not take action on Berger's resolution of impeachment at this time, as was reported, postponing it until the next session of congress.

DEDICATION PROGRAM.

C. H. Worden Will Present Foster Park to the City.

In behalf of the Civic Improvement association, Charles H. Worden has been selected to present the new Foster park to the city of Fort Wayne at the dedication ceremonies to be held July 4. Arrangements for this feature were made at a meeting of the park dedication committee held Wednesday night at the Commercial club. Mayor Jesse Grice, in an address appropriate to the occasion, will accept the park for the city, and in turn will present it to the park board. Prof. Louis Dorn will accept the gift from the city and will then dedicate it for use by the public.

The dedicatory program will begin at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the Fourth, and will last one hour. The different athletic contests and games will follow. Anyone who desires to do so may enter the field day events which part of the program will be directed by Prof. Meyer. High school students and members of the Turnverein-Vorwaerts will participate in the events.

Prof. Meyer, William Frouchtenicht and Byron Strawn, the committee on races and athletics, will meet at the park Sunday afternoon to complete arrangements for the program. William Breuer has offered to donate swings for the park.

MISS PARLEY INDICTED.

Columbus Woman Held for Killing of Alvin Sollinger.

Columbus, O., June 6.—Miss Cecelia Farley was yesterday indicted by the grand jury of murder in the first degree for killing Alvin E. Sollinger, an advertising solicitor, in this city May 14. Miss Farley, a stenographer in the state department, had previously confessed that she had shot Sollinger.

Jerome Quigley, a hotel clerk to whom Miss Farley was engaged to be married and who was near by at the time of the shooting, was exonerated by the grand jury.

SYRIAN SAID HE WAS A SALESMAN

Denied the Impeachment That He Was Peddling But Was Fined.

CITY COURT DOCKET

Ask Oade Jacob, a Syrian, what is the difference between a traveling salesman and a peddler and he will probably tell you $15.

If he had been a salesman, as he claimed he was, selling goods from samples and advertising his brother's store in Chicago, he would probably have been discharged in the city court today where he was fined $5 and costs on the charge that he is a mere peddler and that he has no city license to follow his vocation here.

He had some cards to help along in his alleged advertising scheme and forgot to put the street number of the store on it. He also had a big package of goods which he said were samples only, but the judge wouldn't see it that way and told him after he fined him that he must either get a license or quit peddling here.

Real Actor in Court.

Charles Masterson walked in from Huntington and still had a pretty good-sized package when he was arraigned this morning. He said he is an actor and that he had been playing with The Devil and The Blue Mouse companies. He was held until Monday.

The Other Cases.

Roy "Butch" Stolder was let go after he said he had not bought any cocaine or other drugs, but that he had been under treatment by a physician who "shot something in his arm." He was picked up a week ago under the influence of drug.

Scott Baker was fined $5 and costs and Charles Trenaine $1 and costs for drunkenness. Hugh O'Brien was let go.

Francis Shine and Robert Bell, two of the lads wanted at Phoenixville, Pa., were held. The prosecuting attorney wired yesterday to hold them.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 116, Knights of Pythias, will this evening confer the rank of knight upon several candidates. This is possibly the last time the rank will be conferred before the lodge moves into its new building on Washington street. The evening's program will end with a smoker.

To accommodate the demand for the Brady War Pictures, the Sentinel office will be open each evening until 9 o'clock. Now on sale, Price ten cents. 6-5-tf

SENATOR NIXON YIELDS TO DEATH

Spinal Meningitis Fatal in Case of Nevada Statesman.

WAS MINING MAGNATE

Washington, June 6.—United States Senator George S. Nixon, of Nevada, died at 10 o'clock last night. Senator Nixon had been at the Episcopal eye, ear and throat hospital since last Thursday, when an operation for nasal catarrh was performed. Spinal meningitis developed and the senator's condition soon became critical. For the past 24 hours his death had been momentarily expected.

Early in the day a Christian Science practitioner, William S. Campbell, was called into the case. The senator's wife and relatives in Nevada had been notified of his condition and they are now hurrying to Washington.

Senator Nixon was one of the most expert mining magnates in the west and was intimately associated with the great operations at Goldfields, in his home state. He was 52 years old, a native of California, going to Nevada early in life. He acquired large interests at Reno, Goldfields and elsewhere and began his political career with service in the Nevada legislature. He was attacked by magazine writers on account of the methods by which they claimed he acquired his fortune, for he was rated as several times a millionaire, with a personal following unequaled by any other man in his state.

In the United States senate Mr. Nixon was a quiet figure, rarely having anything to say in the floor proceedings, though always ready to give his advice in the private councils of the senators, among whom he ranked high.

Despite the running fire of attack aimed at his control of large interests Mr. Nixon was recently unanimously re-elected by a democratic legislature in ratification of his choice at a popular election on the so-called Oregon primary plan. His term, a second one, would not have expired until 1917. Senator Nixon lived at Reno, but maintained in this city a magnificent estate in the northwest suburbs.

An electric railway is planned to run between the City of Mexico, Puebla and to the rim of the sleeping volcano of Popocatepti, which is 16,500 feet high.

DOG WAS MAD SAYS THE STATE CHEMIST

Two Columbia City People Bitten Take Pasteur Treatment at Indianapolis.

Columbia City, Ind., June 6.—Dr. E. V. Nolt, the county health officer, has received the report of State Chemist J. P. Simonds, at Indianapolis, announcing the fact that he had made a thorough examination of the dog's head that was shipped from this city Monday morning, and that he found the same to contain many "negri bodies," which means that the animal was mad.

This is the head of the dog that on last Sunday morning bit Miss Ethel Mettler and James Johnson, and Dr. Nolt stated that the two patients would be sent to Indianapolis at once, where they would be given treatment. According to the chemist the animal was suffering from an aggravated case of hydrophobia, and he advised Dr. Nolt to send the patients to Indianapolis as soon as possible. Dr. Nolt immediately got in communication with Mr. Johnson and the Mettler girl and they have gone to Indianapolis.

Both parties will have to take twenty-two days of treatment at the Pasteur institution, and when this is completed they will be sent home as cured. Mr. Johnson complained Wednesday morning of a very severe sore neck, this indicating that the cords and muscles were affected by the bite and he is more than anxious to start the treatment.

JEWELER MADE ASSIGNMENT.

Heavy Buying and Poor Patronage Caused Hartford City Man's Failure.

Hartford City, Ind., June 6.—George W. Carrier, jeweler, of this city, has made an assignment to Aaron M. Waltz, attorney, representing his creditors. Liabilities are estimated at $5,000 and assets at about $2,500.

The assignment was made voluntarily by Mr. Carrier for the benefit of his creditors, who have been pressing him for some time for payment of their claims. Mr. Carrier came here from Eaton a couple of years ago and at the start did a good business. Financial difficulties overtook him as a result of heavy buying for the Christmas trade, which proved a big disappointment.

They say there is nothing new under the sun, but I have perfected a treatment that I want to share with my sisters. What it did for me it can and will do for you, and I now offer it to you.

SERVICE ON C., B. & C.

Last Spike Driven and Cars Begin Running Friday.

Huntington, Ind., June 6.—The final spike was driven in the C., B. & C. repair work yesterday and the short line is now ready for operation after a period of inactivity of a little more than two weeks caused by the forcible means of ejection used by the Erie railroad. The work of connecting the torn tracks was completed at Uniondale yesterday.

The regular schedule will be resumed Friday morning. No changes will be made in the regular schedule until this fall when the gasoline motor cars are installed. A great part of the time, however, will be spent in perfecting the roadbed conditions in order to have it ready to receive the motor cars.

Work will commence in a short time on the removal of the tracks from the Erie right-of-way in Huntington and at Simpson. When that is completed the C., B. & C. railroad will own all the land occupied by its tracks and roadbed.

FIRST UNDER NEW LAW.

Wells County Veteran Granted Increase of Pension.

Bluffton, Ind., June 6.—W. H. Little, county assessor, is the first Wells county civil war veteran to receive an increase in pension through the new pension bill which was made a law on May 11, 1912. Mr. Little received $12 per month and will now receive $20.

Mr. Little filed his application for increase on May 13, two days after the law was passed. The application was placed on file May 14 and later allowed, so that Mr. Little received his certificate and voucher yesterday.

LEFT ALL TO HIS WIE.

Columbia City, Ind., June 6.—Probably one of the shortest wills ever filed for probate in the circuit court was the will of the late Josiah T. Harshbarger, which was filed Wednesday morning, there being but one provision to the instrument, and that was that he gave all of his property, both real and personal, to his wife, Mary A. Harshbarger, without exception. The will was made May 1, 1912, and was witnessed by Theodore Garty and Douglas Finney.

MARRIED AT COLUMBIA CITY.

Columbia City, Ind., June 6.—Miss Mary A. Koester, of Columbia township, and Mr. Charles M. Imhoff, of DeKalb county, were united in marriage in this city Wednesday at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. Charles W. Shoemaker officiating. In the evening they left for DeKalb county, where they expect to make their future home. The bride is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Koester, of this county. The groom is a young farmer of DeKalb county, he residing near Butler, Ind.

FIREFLIES AID FARM WORK.

Ohio Man Plans to Use Nature's Lanterns to Light Barns.

Lebanon, Ohio, June 6.—Barn-broke glow worms and saddle-broke fireflies will furnish the light at chore time if the plans of Scott Clark, a farmer living near here, materialize.

Each evening recently, as Scott went whistling after the cows, he has collected all the fireflies and glow worms he could catch. He has constructed incubators and started to breeding nature's lanterns.

By an ingenious little invention, the character of which he refuses to divulge, Scott is able to measure the lighting power of each of his pets. With this as a working basis he has figured out—one side and end of his barn bears evidences in blue chalk marks that he did figure—that 500, either worms or flies, will illuminate a large barn so that even a man wearing "specks can see to do chores."

As yet Scott has placed no price on a complete barn lighting plant equipment to the required fly or worm capacity.

TO STOP PIANO PLAYING.

New York Congressman Wants to Give Health Board Power.

Washington, June 6.—Representative Thomas W. Bradley, of New York, believes he has found a way to stop the piano player in flat buildings. He is going to try it out on the District of Columbia if his idea, which he presented in a bill to the house is enacted into law.

Mr. Bradley's bill provides a fine of $100 for any person who makes any unnecessary noise with a musical or any other kind of instrument after the board of health has warned him that such noise is aggravating to any sick person who might be within hearing distance. The bill was referred to the committee on the affairs of the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Lola Love, wife of Wiley Love, a farmer living near Covena, Ga., says: "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and find them to be all you claim for them. They gave me almost instant relief when my kidneys were sluggish and inactive. I cheerfully recommend them to all sufferers from kidney troubles." Foley Kidney Pills are as carefully made and as scientifically compounded as any medicine your home doctor can give you. They act directly on the kidneys and bladder. Dreier Drug Co.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English women is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mercolized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face girlish-looking and healthy. Ordinarily mercolized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug-stores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and devitalized scarf skin, which are constantly appearing.—Woman's Herald.

12-YEAR-OLD GIRL A SUICIDE.

Drowning of Louie Pope Evidently a Deliberate Act.

London, June 6.—A verdict of felo de se was returned at the inquest on a 12-year-old schoolgirl named Louie Pope, who drowned herself in a canal near Walverhampton.

She refused to go to school and, when admonished by her parents, always threatened suicide. A younger sister followed Louie to the canal, but Louie drove her away.

From a distance her sister saw Louie undress, place her clothes in the ground and slide down the bank of the canal into the water. The sister ran home, screaming, with the clothes.

The coroner said that it was apparently a deliberate act of self-murder, hence the verdict.

YOUNG FIREBUG CONFESSES.

Attempts to Revenge Himself on Druggist Who Discharged Him.

Stamford, Conn., June 6.—At least two of the incendiary fires Stamford has had during the past year were at Greenberg. A 14-year-old boy who had been committed to the reform school on complaint of his father for incorrigibility, voluntarily confessed that he had set fire to the Spelke block at Pacific and Brooks streets on two occasions, once at midnight on Nov. 28, 1910, and again on May 4, 1911 at 8:23 a. m. Twenty-four families live in the house—a four-story brick affair.

The boy says he set the fires out of revenge on David M. Barrish, a druggist, whose store is in the block, and who had discharged him for alleged dishonesty.

It will be Fort Wayne's very great pleasure during your stay to do everything possible to make the visit a delightful one. We want to know you better and to have you know Fort Wayne. The Sentinel speaks not alone for itself, but for the entire city in throwing the gates wide and voicing its most cordial and most gracious welcome.

It may be entirely possible that we haven't any intention of intervening in Cuba, but it must be admitted that the sending of big battleships and the landing of marines on Cuban soil is making motions that look suspiciously like it.

If anyone has failed to appreciate the fact that Indiana women are earnestly beginning a campaign to secure equal suffrage, news dispatches telling of the whirlwind tour of that Indianapolis committee of Woman's Franchise League of Indiana ought to be convincing evidence of the fact that in keeping eyes fixed on the Taft-Roosevelt wrangle they have overlooked an important political development in our own state. The ladies of the committee, traveling in a bannered automobile, visited half a dozen nearby towns on the opening day, offering arguments, circulating literature and otherwise awakening a sentiment for ballot for the woman. Results of this effort are certain to be manifested in a way that will command the attention of all political parties very shortly.

Representative McKinley and Senator Dixon, in charge of the Taft and the Roosevelt campaigns respectively, ought to easily crowd out all contenders for honors as the Siamese twins of optimism.

And by the way—when is that new asphalt repair plant going to demonstrate that it isn't all a dream by some specific manifestation on Fort Wayne pavements?

PRESS COMMENT UPON MAJOR GENERAL WOOD.

Representative Hay.

Philadelphia Press: "Representative Hay has been so intent on his personal attack and in maneuvering to legislate General Wood out of office he has not been able to see the broader aspects of this most unfortunate change in the law."

Military System.

Washington Star: "To derange the entire military system in order to reach one man is to debase legislation to low ends and to inflict a serious hurt upon the government itself."

Rapid Promotion.

Philadelphia Inquirer: "It is true that the rapid promotion of General Wood from an army surgeon to general rank was not in accord with army practice and was the result of rank favoritism, but two wrongs do not make a right."

"Powerful Enemies."

Chicago News: "General Wood's effort to have useless army posts abolished has raised against him powerful and unscrupulous enemies in both branches of congress."

Qualifications.

Providence Journal: "Neither the army nor the country, so far as his qualifications are concerned, and disregarding the method of his elevation, has any discernible ground of complaint because General Wood happens to be chief of staff."

"Bureaucracy."

Philadelphia Bulletin: "General Wood might succeed even better were he more free to exercise his normal instinct of the surgeon and cut away some of the useless bureaucracy that now impedes the proper development of the army."

Contempt.

New York Evening Post: "Certainly it is true that a number of officers have been assuming to lecture and instruct the congress—for which they make no effort to conceal their contempt—in an unprecedented way. It is no wonder that congress proposes to put a stop to it."

THE CITY LIVEABLE.

Frederic C. Howe, new head of the people's institute in New York, says: "In the city people live close together, and civilization means just this—the close living of the people." Hence he argues that we have got to make the city eminently liveable.

He doesn't sympathize with the back-to-the-land movement, because he thinks that the city is the place where we are going to get our refinement and our comfort as well as our living, but he admits that we must do a great deal better to make the city agreeable or there will be trouble.

Better homes, better amusements, better public services of every kind—that's his idea.

WHEN YOU ARE REVOLUTIONARY.

Ray Stannard Baker remarks that there never has been a revolution over an economic question—only revolts; that every revolution has been caused by the attempt of a new element in the community to obtain power hitherto denied them. He refers to the surprise and indignation of King John at the demand of feudal barons to share his power, and recites various other pertinent examples.

The present upheaval in politics he diagnoses as revolutionary because the people insist on nominating and recalling their officials and initiating and vetoing legislation. These powers were formerly exercised by great private interests through elected representatives of the people.

He might also have spoken of the struggle of the women to get their share of power. That is revolutionary, too. Ask the owners of plate glass windows in London is they don't think so.

FINGER PRINT FOR REGISTRATION.

(Philadelphia Record.)

We have borrowed a ballot from Australia—and generally mutilated it—and we may get some valuable hints about conducting elections from Argentina, which has just had its first election under a new law. Every man who has the right to vote is required to register, and is supplied for purposes of identification with a description illustrated with a photograph and his finger print. Then the law requires every man who is registered to vote, and when the votes are cast there is no local counting; the ballot boxes are sealed and sent to the seat of government, and the ballots are counted by national officials. It is likely to take a month to get at the results, but the opportunities for fraud and blundering seem to be reduced to a minimum.

THE SLEEPER.

The surprise of the presidential primary is the number of voters who did not vote. In no state did more than two-fifths go to the polls. In many the number was less than one-fifth; in some as little as one-tenth.

Do the people not care to nominate? Are they disgusted with the choices offered them? Or are they merely asleep?

If they are asleep, what will they do when they wake up? Is it possible that the American people are about to do something really big?

AN OPPORTUNE VISIT.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

It is regarded by the naval expansionists as a happy coincidence that the visit of the German squadron should come just at a time when congress is deadlocked on the battleship program. They hope that the appearance of these war dogs of the kaiser will bring home to the people and to congress the supposed necessity of keeping abreast of the naval procession, although how or why is not clear.

The action of the senate committee yesterday in restoring the appropriation for two battleships stricken out by the house in obedience to the democratic caucus indicates that the fight is not yet over. Many of the democratic senators do not agree with the house caucus in cutting out the battleship program—O'Gorman, of New York, and Hoke Smith, of Georgia, being particularly aggressive for naval construction. The chances, therefore, are that the senate will hold out for two ships and that the issue will have to be settled in conference between the houses. This will afford the house democrats who were taken into camp in the caucus squabble over the public buildings bill, at which both that and the battleship program were voted down, a chance to get out from under. But the most noticeable effect will be the exposure of another grandstand play on economy. After having been widely advertised as a notable retrenchment when voted by the house, it remains to be seen wether it will be stuck to. Meanwhile real economies, such as the abandonment of superfluous navy yards and army posts, are being opposed because they are needed in the congressional campaign for re-election.

THEY PUT AN END TO IT.

Mr. Bryan, in ... ten Especially for the Sentinel, Forecasts Republican Convention

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

(Copyright, 1912, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Chicago convention promises to be the most exciting ever held in the history of the country, provided, of course, there is no surrender before the battle. Never before have we had a president, fighting for a second term, pitted against an ex-president, fighting for a third term. This alone would make it a battle of giants, but an inexhaustible quantity of red fire is supplied for the celebration by the fact that the contestants, once bosom friends, are bitter enemies.

Whatever may be the cause of the feud, there is no doubt that a feud exists, and no feud among mountaineers has ever been more deadly in its effect on partiicipants and innocent by-standers.

In a street duel a stray bullet sometimes strikes a passer-by, but in this case several hundred thousand officeholders—not to speak of an army of aspirants—have had their hopes riddled and their bread and butter filled with fragments of exploded shells.

In speculating as to the outcome of the convention one must have considerable latitude. At the present, it looks like two conventions, if Mr. Taft's supporters have the courage to do all that is in their power.

The refusal of the committee to honor Mr. Roosevelt's request for 250 tickets indicates they have the animus to fight, but have they the courage to carry the fight to the last ditch? They had the law on their side, the law of precedent—when they gave 250 tickets to the president and refused the ex-president, but the law is never invoked between friends. Men are at outs when they go to law.

Mr. Taft has control of the national committee. The committee can seat enough of the Taft delegates to give him a majority of the convention—and there will be about as much to be said in favor of the Taft delegates from the south as can be said for Mr. Roosevelt's delegates from that section, for republican delegates from the south, whether they support Taft or Roosevelt, represent, as a rule, only what patronage can corrupt or money can buy.

There are two questions to be answered. Whoever can answer them correctly can foretell the result at Chicago. First: Will President Taft dare to use the machinery which he controls? If he does—and the machine doesn't break—he can take his southern delegations, and, with a minority of the delegates from the north, nominate himself.

Does he want that kind of a nomination? And will he risk what Mr. Roosevelt may then do? If the ex-president would announce in advance that he would abide by the decision of the convention he would not have much chance to secure a nomination; he might as well go to Africa.

The second question is: What will Mr. Roosevelt do if his contesting delegates are denied seats? Will he take a majority of the delegates from the north, repair to another hall, seat his contesting delegates from the south and then proceed to nominate himself?

That would seem to be his purpose, if indications and threats amount to anything. If the combatants are left to themselves it is safe to guess that Mr. Roosevelt will be a candidate—either the nominee of the regular convention or the nominee of a bolting convention.

But there is a third course. The republican national committee is composed of men who, whatever their attachments to particular individuals, are still more attached to the republican party, and they have it in their power to determine the action of the convention. The committee will know how many uncontested delegates Mr. Roosevelt has, how many uncontested delegates Mr. Taft has, and how many delegates Senators Cummins and LaFollette have.

If, as is probable, Mr. Roosevelt does not have enough uncontested delegates to give him a majority of the convention, the committee may seat enough of Mr. Taft's delegates to make his strength equal to Mr. Roosevelt's, and leave the balance of power in the hands of Cummins and LaFollette. In that case the door is open for the work of compromise. Taft and Cummins might be the result, or Cummins and LaFollette might be able to force the nomination of a dark horse, provided, always, Mr. Roosevelt doesn't bolt.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN. FROM HIS LATEST PHOTOGRAPH, TAKEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE SENTINEL.

All things considered, I would say, if I were inclined to speculate, but am am not—

W. J. Bryan

P. S.—Suppose Mr. Roosevelt is nominated either by the regular convention or by a convention of his own, will the republicans who oppose a third term bolt? Is their attachment to the traditions of the fathers strong enough to lead to an organized protest against Mr. Roosevelt?

The ex-president accuses Mr. Taft of being the candidate of the bosses. The bosses would be unable to put up a fight in defense of bossism, but Mr. Roosevelt has studiously ignored the third term issue. When men have suggested that he wants to be president for life—with a remainder over to his son—he calls them hard names; but this kind of evasion cannot last through a campaign. He will have to define his position, and let the public know how many terms he considers proper or allowable.

If Mr. Roosevelt will add together the votes he has received at the primaries, and compare the total with the total vote in those states, he will find that he is woefully short of a majority, even in republican states, and he must remember, too, that some who voted for him did so, not because they loved him more, but because they loved Taft less, and he must also take into account the fact that many who voted for him—and a still larger number who did not vote at all—have been disgusted by the manner in which he and the president have conducted their campaign.

He must, in addition, take into account the fact that many who admired him when he went out of office have turned against him because they feel that he has done injustice to the president and destroyed the party's chance for success.

There is abundant evidence of an enormous protest at the polls, even if no ticket is put in the field by the anti-Roosevelt republicans.

All Questions Answered Relative to River Improvement.

By Municipal Ownership and Civic Improvement Committee.

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE SLOWLY.

Question—If the city should acquire the river frontage, would it be entirely and completely improved at once?

Answer—No. Some inexpensive slicking up of our river banks could be made at once and then they could await the demands of the property owners to have them more permanently improved. The work will progress for many years, but the frontage having been once secured, the city will not have to pay for expensive private improvements, such as new buildings, that the private owners of the river frontage might otherwise be constantly making, should these lands not now be acquired by the city.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

Program of St. Catherine's Academy Heard by Large Audience.

The recital given last evening at the St. Patrick's lyceum by the senior music class of the St. Catherine's academy was attended by an audience of 600 of the friends of the young lady members and the program rendered was a most enjoyable one. Piano solos and duets, violin solos, vocal duets and chorus constituted the recital program in which the following young women participated: Marguerite Flick, Georgiana Bennet, Grace Keeley, Marie McMillen, Helen Goodfellow, Marie Goodfellow, Margaret Foohey, Aileen Loos, Velma Bryan, Norma Zimmer, Elizabeth Drury, Catherine Flaherty, Florence Dennie, Margaret Palmer, Lucile Miller, Florence Fielbinger.

At the conclusion of the program Rev. Joseph F. Delaney, the rector of St. Patrick's church, was called on and spoke. "The musical program rendered," he said, "surely surpasses anything ever given by the girls of the academy and is a source of satisfaction to us all. Music not only tends to cultivate within the heart of her who possesses it a finer taste but brings into the home a spirit that must be a stranger where music is not known." He reviewed in an interesting manner the advantages that a musical education gives and complimented the teachers on their efforts and the students for the progress they had made.

WILSON FORCES TAKE LEAD.

New Jersey Governor's Friends Capture Minnesota Convention.

Duluth, Minn., June 6.—The Wilson forces took the lead at the outset of the state democratic convention today by electing John M. Freeman, of Oliva, temporary chairman. The Clark forces failed to present a candidate.

The convention promised a battle. Bryan and Clark forces planned to make a stand against the Wilson followers in efforts to send 24 delegates to Baltimore instructed for the New Jersey governor. Part of the Bryan-Clark followers declared their intention to attempt to prevent the re-election of Fred B. Lynch, of St. Paul, the Wilson candidate for national committeeman. Wilson has the majority of the instructed delegates. He carried every district but the fourth and possibly the first and sixth, which is enough to pass the unit rule if all his delegates stand by him, as there are but nine districts. Each district was to select two delegates to the national convention and six were to be chosen at large.

LA FOLLETTE MEN THREATEN.

Will Put Up Candidate if Roosevelt Makes Fight on Root.

Madison, Wis., June 6.—If Col. Roosevelt makes a fight on Senator Root for temporary chairman of the Chicago convention the La Follette delegates, numbering 36, will put up a candidate in opposition to him. This was the assurance here today of States Treasurer Dahl, delegate-at-large from Wisconsin. Their choice for chairman had not been decided, but Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, may be chosen. A steering committee of four will be named to direct the La Follette fight on the floor. It will meet either in Madison or Milwaukee soon. The Wisconsin delegation probably will meet in Chicago on Saturday prior to the convention.

CLARK GETS ARKANSAS.

Democrats Refuse to Put "Grandfather Clause" in Platform.

Little Rock, Ak., June 6.—By a vote of 334 to 242 the Arkansas state democratic convention today refused to embody in its platform an endorsement of the so-called "grandfather clause" as a qualification for suffrage. Eight delegates at large, with half a vote each, who, as well as the district delegates, were instructed for Speaker Champ Clark, were elected as follows: Joe T. Robinson, Lonoke; Senator J. P. Clark, Little Rock; Senator Jeff Davis, Little Rock; J. P. Hinemon, Morrell; Hal L. Norwood, Mena; S. Brundidge, Searcy; Jerry C. South, Mountain Home; B. B. Hudgins, Harrison. Judge Wm. F. Kavanaugh, Little Rock, was chosen national committeeman.

SHOOTING WAS JUSTIFIED.

The coroner found that Thompson did shoot Votaw, but that he did so in self defense.

Ask Emergency Appropriation.

An emergency appropriation of $65,000 for the expenses of the marine expedition to Cuba was asked of congress today by the secretary of the navy. Mr. Meyer described the movement as an "expeditionary force of marines for tropical field duty."

A letter from Major General W. P. Biddle, commanding general of marines, accompanied the request. It described the necessity for more money to equip the marines dispatched to southern waters and to Cuban stations. He said 2,035 enlisted men and 60 officers had been dispatched. The equipment of the corps was insufficient to arm the men properly, and the war department was requisitioned for pistols and emergency field equipment. General Biddle said sixty days' rations have been furnished, $15,000 for transportation and $25,000 for miscellaneous supplies.

NOT RAT, BUT SQUIRREL.

Forest Animal Lived Several Days at Local Eating House.

For several days employes at the Wellington restaurant, on Calhoun street, had exerted every effort to kill a large gray rat which apparently wished to assume ownership of the basement of the building occupied by the eating house. Traps were set a few days ago, but every morning upon going to the basement to look in the trap, instead of finding the rat a prisoner they only found signs of a night's ravage done by the rodent. This morning the vandal was captured. It was not a rat, as was supposed, but a large gray squirrel. The animal had been living off the scraps from the restaurant for days.

Proprietor John Welten, of the Wellington, took the squirrel to market with him this morning and gave it to a farmer who lives on the Coldwater road. The animal will be turned loose in the woods.

The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company completes its work on the north track on Lewis street today, and cars will be operated over the new tracks for the first time tomorrow. Work on the south track will begin at once.

In raspberry colored linen a charming summer costume is created after a model designated as a "Russian blouse dress."

Self-toned soutache braid decorates the cuffs, collars and the panel upon the left side of the belt. The decoration used upon these accessories is of a conventional design.

The long narrow vest is made of sheer white Swiss muslin. This is finely tucked and gives the pure white touch to the face, which is so becoming to all.

The buttons on this frock are used as trimming. They are small round molds covered with the raspberry linen and the smart bow at the throat is of black moire.

An all-black hat is designed to be worn with this Russian blouse frock. The hat is of fine soft Milan with a big crisp bow of moire as its only trimming.

Health and Beauty Hints

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Meldon: I am glad you value your youthful complexion, and if you avoid powder and rouge and use this spermax lotion the skin will always remain divinely fair. Put 4 ounces spermax in ½ pint hot water (or witch hazel), then add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply the lotion sparingly to the skin and rub lightly until it vanishes. Your mother will like the spermax lotion, because it dispels that shiny, sallow condition and gives a tone and velvety softness to rough skins unknown to users of powder. The spermax lotion is invisible when on and perspiration will not spot or streak it.

Belle: No, glasses will not give a sparkle to dull eyes. Before you visit the oculist make up and use this harmless, inexpensive eye-tonic, and I am sure you will be saved the expense and annoyance of glasses: Dissolve an ounce crystos in a pint cold water. Putting 2 or 3 drops in the eyes daily will relieve the smart and ache, and overcome the bloodshot condition and give to dull, expressionless eyes a fascinating charm and brilliancy.

Mrs. Hen: You ought not be sickly, and you won't any longer if you make up and use this good, old-fashioned tonic and regulator: Dissolve ½ ounce sugar in ½ pint alcohol, then stir in 1 ounce hardene and add hot water to make a quart. The dose is a tablespoonful before each meal. A course of the hardene treatment rids the body of all impurities, makes rich, red blood and builds up worn, waste tissue. Follow my suggestion and your health will soon return, and instead of "muddy," oily, blotchy skin, it will be clear and radiantly beautiful.

Edith: I always make it a rule never to recommend a recipe unless I know exactly what it will do and am convinced that it is quite harmless. Parmotis will destroy your fat quickly and gently, without pressal or future ill effects. To prepare, dissolve 4 ounces parmotis in 1½ pints hot water, and when it cools take a tablespoonful before each meal. This will remove every ounce of superfluous fat and leave the skin smooth.

C. D. Q.—It is distressing, I know, but if you use plain xanthrox for cleansing the hair and scalp you will not be bothered further with excessive oiliness and profuse dandruff. A teaspoonful xanthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water is ample for a thorough shampoo, and when this is poured on the head and rubbed up into a thick, white lather it stops the itching instantly. After rinsing your hair and scalp will be wonderfully clean and sweet, and the hair will dry quickly, with a rich gloss and even color. Occasional shampoos with xanthrox will induce a luxurious growth of beautiful hair.

Ada: Brooding will not help your complexion, in fact, worry causes wrinkles, and crow's feet. Make up and use this almonia cream-jelly and before long the oiliness will disappear, sallowness will vanish and the skin will assume a velvety texture and that youth-tint much sought after: Dissolve an ounce almonia in a pint cold water. Into ½ pint cold water stir 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine, then add 1 ounce plain almonia. When thoroughly dissolved, apply freely to skin and rub in well. This cream jelly is especially fine for removing pimples and blackheads and reducing large pores around the nose. Used during the heated term it prevents freckles, tan and sunburn.

May R.: Oily, sticky hair indicates an unhealthy scalp, and to correct this condition you should use a plain quinozite hair and scalp tonic, made by mixing together ½ pint each water and alcohol and 1 ounce quinozite. The use of this inexpensive tonic banishes excess oiliness and profuse dandruff and gives to dull, fadge, brittle hair a glint and rich color and silky softness truly charming.

Nadine: Put plain pyroxin on your eyebrows with forefinger and they will grow in thick and silky. To make stubby eyelashes grow long and curly, apply pyroxin to lash roots with finger and forefinger. Be careful, however, and don't get any where no hair is wanted.

J. M.: Those aggravating hairs can be banished for all time with one application of a delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairs and wanted, then after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be soft, smooth and hairless.

EARTH SINKS BEFORE THEM.

Pennsylvania Workmen Discover Cavern Containing Hewn Timber.

Lewistown, Pa., June 6.—While at work on the Henry Road farm, near Reedsville, workmen were surprised to see a section of earth fifty feet square drop out of sight. Rocks thrown into the cavern gave back no sound. Then a ladder twenty-five feet was lowered into the hole, but no walls could be reached.

It is believed to be one of the many natural formations which occur in a limestone country, but the discoverers are puzzled at hewn timber, apparently preserved by the water, that forms one of the braces of the cave. No evidence of water could be found as far as the passage could be explored.

Mrs. Watson previous to her marriage in 1906 was Miss Maryland Spring, daughter of a wealthy Laredo (Tex.) cattle man. Her maiden name was restored.

ROOSTER GIVES ALARM.

Will Share Honors With Goose That Warned Ancient Romans.

Louisville, June 6.—The goose whose cackling warned the Roman populace of the invasion of the Goths and Huns will now have to share honors with Wallace Renfro's rooster, which crowed so loud one night that he awakened Mr. Renfro's neighbors in time for them to give chase to two burglars who were rifling his hen coop.

The looters managed to secure four fowls, which they carried despite the fact that they were pursued for several blocks. They had evidently come with the intention of making a wholesale cleanup, as they left behind a sack bags in which they had intended to stow the fowls.

Mr. Renfro was not at home at the time of the raid on his hen coop, but the shrill crowing of his rooster caused several neighbors to peep out of their windows just in time to see dusky forms gliding about in the back yard of the home at 3011 West Broadway. They gave chase, but were outdistanced by the fleet thieves.

The hen roost of C. F. Minott, at 3000 West Broadway, next door to Mr. Renfro's place was also robbed, and several valuable fowls were taken.

HE'S A NEGRO BOOTBLACK, BUT A HERO WHO SAVED MANY FROM A WATERY GRAVE

"Ah, Always Wuz a Good Swimmer," His Only Remark When Hundreds Congratulated Him for His Bravery.

NEWTON JOHNS.

Seattle, Wash., June 5.—A man was having his shoes shined. They were natty tans, and the wearer was a fussy dresser. Newton Johns, small negro and shine expert, was officiating. The job was half done when a crash rent the air, followed by screams.

"Hey!" yelled the fussy dresser. "Where're you going? Coming back and finish the job."

But the bootblack was speeding in the direction of the steamboat dock from which a moment before hundreds of passengers had been going aboard the steamer Flyer for Tacoma. The hoisting machinery which raised and lowered the gangplank in the slip had broken, and the plank falling, sixty men, women and children had been hurled into the waters of the harbor.

The edge of the balcony was thronged with excited people.

"Let me through!" the bootblack shouted, and catapulted against the human mass.

He went through it like a shot. A man was holding a coil of rope and hopping up and down. Johns grabbed one end of the rope.

"Hold tight!" he said, and went over the edge—splash! He almost landed on top of a woman floundering in the water. The shock of the sudden immersion in the icy salt water was like a shock of electricity. It numbed him at first; then set every nerve to tingling cruelly. He opened his eyes under water, and the salt made them smart. But he kept them open.

For the woman was beneath him and sinking still. He could see her clearly. Her long hair had come undone and was spread out and waving like seaweed.

Head down, Johns swam after her. Now and then he stretched out an arm experimentally, for distances under water are deceitful. He could not reach her. His threshing legs drove him down still farther. His lungs were bursting. He released the air from them grudgingly and swam further down.

A strand of hair caught in his fingers. He turned, and rescuer and rescued rose to the surface like a shot. Johns shook the water from his eyes and gulped the air greedily. The woman, too, sucked the air into her lungs and instantly revived.

Then a grim struggle ensued, for the woman was but half conscious and mad with fright. She threw her arms about Johns' neck and together they disappeared again beneath the surface. Her grip was vise-like; it shackled his arms. With a tremendous effort he broke her hold.

"Slack!" he shouted to the man on the dock, who was holding the other end of the rope. Fighting, he passed the rope about the woman's waist.

"Hoist!"

Johns was the first of the rescuers in the water, and the last to leave it. The water was filled with struggling people. Johns swam to a woman who seemed to be tiring. Somebody from the Flyer threw a cork ring, and the bootblack caught it.

He tried to pass it over the woman's head, and finally succeeded, though her struggles hindered him. He gave the signal and the woman was drawn to safety.

The lifebelt was adjusted and the girl was hoisted to the deck of the steamer. Johns had completed his fifth rescue.

A third and a fourth woman he caught as they were sinking, and helped them into lifeboats.

A little girl came next. Though frightened, she kept her wits and seemed to know what Johns wanted her to do. He began to tread water, with the girl sitting on his knee. A lifebelt was thrown from the boat. "Lift your arms!" and the girl obeyed.

arms. She was unconscious.

"I think she's the one that died," said Johns later. "But I can't be sure."

The water now was full of rescuers. Four women Johns helped into lifeboats. He began to realize that he was chilled and tiring fast. But he kept on swimming and diving from time to time to peer beneath the surface.

He staggered when he left the water, and grinned cheerfully when scores of people grasped his hand. The floor seemed to waive beneath his feet, and the circle of people about him advanced and receded and jumbled before his eyes.

A big, strong hand grasped his own. He was receiving the congratulations of Mayor Cottrill. " " " " a credit to your race and all humanity."

"Ah always wuz a good swimmer," he said.

MERCER EXPECTS TO STOP ERIE IN FINAL STRUGGLE

Billikens to Make Stand in Last Game for an Even Break in Tussle With the Leaders.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Erie, Pa., June 6.—When Jack Mercer went to the Erie ball park this afternoon with his Billiken comrades he was booked to stop the Sailors in the final tussle of the present series and his pards had promised him the best brand of support they know how to give, as all of them want an even break in the six games with the leading clubs of the Central league.

Mercer is all primed for the going and the kind of ball he pitched in his losing conflict with the Youngstown team on Saturday will keep Billy Gilbert and his cohorts on the jump. Harry Shanks is back in the game and barring another accident he will continue behind the bat on the trip which will be of great help to the pitchers.

Charlie Alberts was ordered to warm up before the game and to be ready to go in at any moment as the runtest is counted an event of great importance in the contest. Invasion since an effort is being made to show that the western clubs are stronger than those added when the Green-club circuit was organized.

It is argued that if Fort Wayne, a second division club at present, can win half of its games from Erie and Youngstown on their own ball grounds that it is stronger than either, because there is a shade the best of the umpiring and all the other breaks that go to the clubs in their own territory. Tonight the club will go to Wheeling where Oscar Claude H. Darnell lives and it will try three games against Edward J. Anderson and his Steele trio. If rains, that threaten to close a postponement of the final game, prevents action, the club will leave here early for the scene of its next battle.

If Mercer plays through the entire game here, provided it is staged, Alberts will open at the Wheeling grounds tomorrow, and as he has always been pretty lucky there, he is confident he can start the series with a victory.

Tal Stafford, a pitcher who has been alternating between professional baseball and study at an agricultural and mechanical seat of learning in Raleigh, N. C., debuted here in the second game of the series and unless he can show more than he did in the trial heat it will be necessary for Manager Shaughnessy to raise the suspension on Billy Goldrick and hurry him to the rescue.

Goldrick generally has about seven innings of good pitching up his sleeve and with a Stafford to go to his aid in event of trouble he would probably be of more value to the staff than Stafford unless the latter can show something more than he had in the first game.

His failure to hold runners on the bases was a big handicap to Harry Martin and a double steal that was executed during the game and netted a run was the direct result of permitting the base runners to obtain too many liberties.

Colligan was easily disposed of in the opening inning but Gilhooley waited and was rewarded with a pass and after he had taken third on Nixon's single, the pair worked a double steal and secured a run. Anderson made the first base hit, Scott and Quinlan for one each and foot fallies were tabbed in the opening chapter.

Schang hit for two bases in the second, Colligan nipped a triple and Gilhooley a single and a pair of runs was added. With this lead Manager Shaughnessy could not see much advantage in relieving Stafford, so he let him stick until the sixth, when Art Loudell went in after the Fort Wayne players had shown some signs of tiring for a victory.

Reis was driven from the box and Carl Sterzer finished the game and he held Fort Wayne safe all the way, winning it 6 to 5. Manny Fabrique hit in the pinches and started the threatening rally in the fifth when Reis was benricked. He shared batting honors with Blount and Clancy.

HORINE BETTERS HIS MARK.

Bump Will Not Be Recorded, as He Didn't Do It in a Contest.

New York, June 6.—Horace Horine, the sensational high jumper from the Pacific coast, who recently hung up a world's record of 8 feet 7 inches, bettered that mark in practice yesterday at Travers Island, the summer home of the New York Athletic club, by leaping the remarkable height of 6 feet 8½ inches.

Horine's great jump will not go down on the record, though it was officially measured with a steel tape, as it was not made in a contest. It was, nevertheless the greatest unaided leap for height a human being ever made.

BATTLER AND AD MET FIRST TIME

Shook Hands and Talked Over Time They Engaged in Battle.

MEET IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—Champion Adolph Wolgast and Battling Nelson met yesterday for the first time since their memorable battle at Fort Richmond, Cal., February 22, 1910, and shook hands. Manager Tom Jones had Wolgast over at the O'Connell gymnasium going through some exercises when the battle-scarred battler walked into the place. He watched Wolgast punch the bag and skip the rope, all the time scanning the Michigan Wildcat with a curious eye.

When Wolgast went into the rubbing room and climbed on the board Nelson followed him. Keegers on in the gym crowded after the Hegewisch Dane expecting a hot exchange of words if not a real fight. But the battler walked over to the prostrate Ad and held out his mangled right mitt.

"Hello, Ad," he said. Gee! but you look small."

"How are you, Bat?" spoke up the champion. "I guess I am a little low in weight. You know, I've had a couple of fights lately and that appendicitis business did not help me any. However, I'll be as tough as ever in a few weeks—tough enough to clean up Joe Rivers on July 4."

"You're as bad a bag puncher as I am, Ad," chirped Bat.

"Yes," said Ad, "we both fight better than we punch the bag."

"Well, I'm glad to have seen you," said the Battler, extending his hand again. "I want you luck in the Rivers fight. Goodby."

"Goodby, Bat, and good luck to you," was the champ's parting remark.

TRAINING 280-lb. SHOT PUTTER [illegible] OLYMPIC GAMES.

How Ralph Rose Has Reduced 50 Pounds [illegible] Months, and is Conditioning Himself for [illegible] Sweden.

UPPER PICTURE—REDUCING THE ABDOMEN AND STRENGTHENING THE MUSCLES.
SIDE—LIMBERING UP THE BACK AND SIDE MUSCLES.
LOWER—TRAINER AL. LEAN, OF SAN FRANCISCO OLYMPIC CLUB, MASSAGING HIS POWERFUL CHEST AND SHOULDERS.

San Francisco, Cal., June 6.—Reducing fifty pounds in three months is no small matter, viewed from any angle. It is still less so when taken in connection with Ralph Rose, the gigantic California shot-putter who will be one of America's representatives at the Olympic games, whose many performances in past have astounded the civilized world. Yet he has done it, and contrary to the usual custom, he did it without dieting. He is in perfect health, and declares most vigorously that he never felt better in his life.

When Rose started training he weighed 289 pounds; today he tips the beam at 239 pounds.

Trainer Al Lean, of the Olympic club, conducted the training and used mainly massage treatment, some bending exercises, a little road work, and a finishing process, a small amount of blanket sweating. Ralph did not have to stint himself, and was allowed to consume just as much French pastry and kindred edibles as his heart desired.

For the past three months Rose has been at his training quarters at 7 o'clock every morning. A plunge in the tank would be the first thing which would be followed by a brisk rub down. This softened the layers of fat that seemed to hang all over the body of the young giant and prepared him for the perspiration provoking work that followed. A little rope skipping helped to limber up the lower muscles of the body and at the same time do away with some of the flabbiness that enveloped them. Then Ralph would sit down to breakfast and a good half hour would elapse before the last bite was stowed away. The next step in the day's proceedings was to walk down to his offices. In private life Rose is a lawyer—and a good one, too.

"I have lost over fifty pounds since the first of March and when I can get rid of five or ten more I will begin to feel real nice. I have not started to dry out yet, and once I do I won't have much trouble in getting down to any figure I want.

"So far, I have taken off nine inches and now measure 45 around the waist. Three or four will bring me down to normal. I am 6 feet 5 inches in height. Those bending exercises are great dope for anyone that wants to lose some of that fleshy encumbrance. But a person must be consistent. You have to keep right after it, and I think that is what has benefited me most."

With Rose in his present condition, there seems hardly a doubt in the world but that he will be taken over to Sweden next month.

He is the one big hope of the Pacific coast, and he seems to warrant the confidence reposed in him.

ORGANIZATION BROUGHT SUCCESS.

President Allgeier Praises Work of Men Who Helped Him Out.

President C. H. Allgeier, of St. Mary's Athletic club, insists that the great success of his term of office was due to the fact that the committees took good care of the business deals and athletic arrangements last year and he told the directors that team work is as essential in the commercial activities of the club as in its athletics.

During his term about $1,200 was added in the way of improvements to the club and while he has been energetic in advancing the interests of the club he has had some great aid from his committees and directors. Work on the double tennis court at Lafayette and Madison streets will be started in the next two weeks.

Antwerp is putting in a new ball park. The Parr brothers, who quit Sunday ball last season, will again be on the Reds.

Springfield Pitcher Seen Here Will Work for Manager O'Leary.

Springfield, O., June 6.—Pitcher Ashenfelder, sold to the Indianapolis club, arrived in the city last night after his belongings and left at 7 o'clock this morning for the Hoosier city to report to Manager O'Leary. Ash was delighted with his chance to show in faster company and is confident that he will be able to deliver the goods. Mrs. Ashenfelder, who has been in the city since the season opened, left for Pittsburg yesterday morning to visit her parents before her husband learned of his good fortune.

RILEY STOPPED DEHAVEN.

(Canton Repository.)

Billy Riley did one thing Tuesday beside batting pounded for home runs. This was to stop Arista DeHaven's batting streak, after the right fielder had hit safely in thirteen consecutive games. He scored two runs, but Billy held the ball into safe territory. He got on base twice through Dawson's errors.

CANTON TO MAKE CHANGE IN TEAM

Lack of Patronage Makes It Necessary to Get a Few Ball Players.

ATTENDANCE IS BAD

Canton, O., June 6.—Radical changes in the personnel of the Canton Central league team are being considered by the owners. The lack of patronage is a thorn in the side of the directorate, and an upheaval is in order in the near future, providing the Statesmen do not set their house in order.

It was a sad blow to the business management when hardly more than 200 paid admission for Tuesday—Ladies' day. The bleachers were depopulated. The fans need to come to know, for the Sailors played three games at Springfield last week. "He's fast, no question about that, and Keefe, the pitchers and the whole team is all right, but I can't see a whole lot to the rest of the Erie team, though. He's about the whole show."

O'Day plays against Gilhooley rather than the Erie team when matched against the Sailors. He just tries to keep him off the bases and pays little attention to the other players. He orders his infield close in and then has his pitchers to field the Irishman high balls all the time. "Make him hit on the ground with the infield pulled in and he won't reach first so often," explains the mogul of the Reapers. "He can't get those high balls out of the infield and can't beat the pegs to first with the infield playing in for him. The first day we played Erie, Gilhooley was up and like a bunch of dubs, but we used a plan of war the next day and it worked. Keep Gilhooley off the sacks and Erie isn't so hard to beat."

SPORTING NEWS NOTES

The Anthony Weynes accept the challenge of the Pirates for a game at the old golf links next Sunday.

Jimmy Burke has signed as a scout for the Detroit club, and has already taken the road in the interests of the Tiger management.

The Koklongans are out after games and are ready to meet teams with players not over 18 years of age.

Two games at Butler have been booked by the White Sox for Saturday and Sunday.

The Hoosiers will play the Dodgers at Lawton park Sunday afternoon. All players are requested to meet at Broadway and Lavina streets tomorrow evening at 7:3 o'clock.

INJURED PLAYERS JOIN TEAM.

Miller and Pick Get Back in the Game With Terre Haute Club.

Youngstown, O., June 6.—Outfielder Miller and Thirdbaseman Pick, who have been out of the game on account of injuries, joined the Terre Haute club here today and Manager Grant was notified that Pickering, of the University of Minnesota, will be in camp in a short time. Nee will go back to second base and Grant will return to the bench for the present.

REAPERS BUMPED ONE SAILOR MAN

O'DAY TELLS STORY

Canton, O., June 5.—Erie is practically a one-man club in the opinion of Charley O'Day, manager of the Reapers, who made their last appearance here this week until the next round of the western teams. That one man who is holding the Sailors up in the race is Gilhooley, the little freshman leased by Roger Bresnahan to Billy Gilbert.

"Take Gilhooley away from that team and Gilbert would find it hard sledding to stay in the first division," says O'Day, and it ought to know, for the Sailors played three games at Springfield last week. "He's fast, no question about that, and Keefe, the pitchers and the whole team is all right, but I can't see a whole lot to the rest of the Erie team, though. He's about the whole show."

O'Day plays against Gilhooley rather than the Erie team when matched against the Sailors. He just tries to keep him off the bases and pays little attention to the other players. He orders his infield close in and then has his pitchers to field the freshman high balls all the time. "Make him hit on the ground with the infield pulled in and he won't reach first so often," explains the mogul of the Reapers. DR. HARDMAN SPECIALIST

CURES—

PELVIC, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES, RUPTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, STRICTURE, PILES, AND FISTULA—Without the Knife and Without Detention from Business.

BLOOD POISON, TUBERCULOSIS, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES, RHEUMATISM, Etc., CURED by the intravenous use of SERUMS, ANTITOXINS, etc., whereby the medicine is introduced, unchanged, directly into the blood stream; coming immediately into contact with and eliminating or destroying the poisons or toxins therein, purifying the blood and supplying the diseased, tissues and organs with pure, healthy blood thereby restoring them to natural and normal condition.

Remember, I keep the best of everything to be had in the way of treating and curing disease, regardless of cost or effort to procure the same. The best is always the cheapest and where so vital a thing as health is concerned it is the height of folly to accept anything but the best. HEALTH IS TOO PRECIOUS TO EXPERIMENT WITH. While I have cured many cases that have been considered incurable or have progressed to a stage where life was despaired of, it is safer, much easier and much less expensive to the patient if I can get the case in the beginning or before you have been experimented upon by unskilled or incompetent doctors.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN—And nearly all nervous diseases are the direct result of chronic or imperfectly treated pelvic disease. I not only remove the cause, but my many years' experience in the treatment of NERVOUS and PELVIC diseases has enabled me to perfect NEW and ORIGINAL methods of treatment that bring about in a very short time a complete and satisfactory condition, by removing the cause of the trouble, instead of treating the symptoms as is generally done.

FIREWORKS ON THE FOURTH.

The "boys" at engine house, No. 6, Wells and Third street, are planning a brilliant fireworks display for the Fourth. With this end in view they are now ready to receive contributions from people who wish to enjoy the display without risk of losing life or limb. The firemen believe that many parents would prefer contributing towards a fireworks display under experienced hands than to allow the children to handle fireworks indiscriminately, as has been the practice in the past.

DEFENSE PUTS FORD ON STAND

[...]A[...] [S]URPRISE

[L]os An[geles, June] 6.—Chief Counsel Rogers, o[f the def]ense in the trial of Cl[arence] S. [Darro]w, for alleged jury br[ibery,] today [pl]aced Assistant District Attorney [Ford] on the stand. The sudde[n move] of [the] defense apparently was inspired b[y a] desire to show co-operation betwe[en] federal and state governments in t[he D]arrow prosecution.

Bert H. Frankli[n's pro]bable relations with the district [attorney's of]fice and the Merchants' and [Manufactu]rers' association comprised the subject of a searching cross examination when Franklin resumed the stand today in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery.

Franklin testified that about two weeks before he entered the employment of the McNamara defense he had applied to Assistant District Attorney W. J. Ford for employment. Since his arrest for jury bribery, Franklin said, he had visited the offices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association on two occasions.

District Attorney Fredericks objected to the injection of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association into the case. He declared that the organization had nothing to do with the prosecution of Darrow or the testimony of the witness.

The new line of attack on Franklin by the defense was construed as an attempt to show that Franklin had close relations with those who were said to be most deeply interested in the prosecution of the McNamara brothers. Rogers referred to the half dozen men present at the association's offices on the occasion of Franklin's first visit, as the strike committee. Franklin said he knew nothing of any strike committee and added that the men were all "My friends, for which I thank God."

"How does it come then," asked Rogers, "that these men who were your close friends, were the prosecuting committee of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association and you were an employe of the defense?"

Franklin said it was a matter of business with him, "just as it is yours to defend Mr. Darrow."

The objections of the prosecution were overruled and Attorney Rogers continued questioning the witness as to his relations with the organization, which, Rogers declared, had been in charge of the fight against union labor in Los Angeles, and which was at the present time very close to the prosecution in the Darrow case.

"HOUN' DAWG" IN EVIDENCE.

Clark in Control of West Virginia Democratic Convention.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 6.—Friends of Speaker Clark control the democratic state convention here today. The temper of the convention was early manifest. An enthusiastic delegate entered the crowded opera house accompanied by a handsome St. Bernard. Instantly the band played "The Houn' Dawg" music and the delegates cheered.

John J. Cornwell, the presiding officer, attacked the tariff and campaign for nomination of Col. Roosevelt and declared that with Champ Clark as the next president and Underwood as the next speaker of the house of representatives the democratic party would come into its own.

While the committees were preparing their reports the delegates were addressed by former United States Senator Henry G. Davis, who declared that he was a "friend and well-wisher of Gov. Harmon of Ohio," which raised a storm of protests. Mr. Davis demanded that he be heard and said that as the democrats of the state generally were for Clark he would abide by that decision and the protests were changed to cheers.

"If you can't agree on Wilson or Clark," shouted Congressman Littlepage, "join with all of us and nominate that Cicero of the west, Wm. J. Bryan."

The band had sufficient time to play through two pieces before the demonstration subsided.

OLD DAM RECALLS TRAGEDY.

Minister and Woman Lost Their Lives While Canoeing on Lake Como.

Zionsville, Ind., June 6.—A contract for rebuilding the dam at Lake Como has been awarded by the directors of Zion Park association to F. M. Gregory, a local contractor. The dam will be built of reinforced concrete. Work will begin at once.

Lake Como was a big attraction in the early days of Zion Park assembly, and it has been the scene of numerous accidents in which persons lost their lives.

In July, 1895, a minister and a woman member of his congregation were canoeing on the lake, when a woman who was riding in an overhead trolley basket allowed her feet to catch in the parasol carried by the woman in the canoe. She was thrown overboard. The minister jumped into the lake to save her and both were drowned.

High water caused the dam to go out a few years ago, and now it is to be rebuilt as an attraction to visitors who will attend the eighty-first annual assembly, which will be held at the park beginning August 19.

WIN WATER BATTLE.

Winchester, Ind., June 6.—The city firemen and the firemen of the Woodbury glass factory fought their second water battle in Meridian street here, and a crowd estimated at one thousand witnessed it. The city firemen won after seven minutes of the hardest fighting. The three firemen representing the factory were knocked down in the heap, when the ninety-pound pressure from the city firemen struck them in the stomach. It was thought at first they were injured. The two companies fought a week ago, and it took the city boys eleven minutes to win the fight.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Mrs. Carrie Heller and daughters, of Washington boulevard west, have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. Hauseman, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Mrs. J. M. McCleskey, of Albertville, Ala., who arrived here today.

Miss Lydia Buechner, of Herman street, entertained a company of young women last evening at a sewing party. As Miss Buechner is soon to be a bride there was a busy hour or so knotting a comforter and hemming a tablecloth and napkins. Miss Buechner served delicious refreshments and one of the guests gave much pleasure by playing the piano.

CONDUCTOR SAYS MEMORY IS LOST

Charles H. Spangler Asks $50,000 Damages of the Nickel Plate Road.

HURT IN A COLLISION

Charles H. Spangler, formerly a conductor on the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, has entered suit in the superior court in which he demands $50,000, asserting in a complaint filed by Judge R. B. Dreibelbiss that he sustained loss of memory and of continuity of thought.

The suit is one of the biggest actions for damages filed here against any corporation and it is likely that it will eventually find its way into the federal courts unless some sort of a compromise is affected before it is placed on trial.

Spangler alleges that on October 20, 1911, he was a conductor on one of the freight trains of the company and that it was running in two sections. At Maple Grove, O., his train slowed down under orders for a crossing and the second section crashed into his caboose. He was in the cupola at the time and in addition to other injuries he sustained a fracture of the skull that produced loss of memory.

Negligence is charged in that the collision occurred early in the morning and in a dense fog, and that there had been no orders issued by the train dispatcher for the crew of the second section to look out for the first.

It is charged that the injuries will disable the conductor permanently and prevent him from working at a job that paid him as high as $300 a month while he was regularly in the service.

COMMISSION CALLS HALT.

Suspends Proposed New Rules for Baggage Transportation.

Washington, June 6.—New regulations for transportation of baggage proposed by nearly every railroad in the United States which would in effect advance the rates on excess were today suspended by the interstate commerce commission. The suspension becomes effective on July 1 and continues in force for 120 days, pending investigation. The new regulations not only sought to amend the excess rates but to prohibit the carriage of certain size pieces of baggage. The suspended regulations follow:

On and after July 1 for any piece of baggage (except immigrant baggage checked at port of landing) the greatest dimension of which exceeds 45 inches, there will be an additional charge for each additional inch equal to the charge of 100 pounds excess weight.

On and after July 1, 1912, no piece of baggage the greatest dimension of which exceeds seventy (70) inches (excepting immigrant baggage checked at port of landing) will be transported in baggage cars.

The commission believes that fixing by the roads of dimensions of baggage will work an unnecessary hardship on travelers.

LOSES WIFE IN CITY.

Milwaukee Man Has Peculiar Experience in New York.

New York, June 6.—Frank M. Davis, the Milwaukee manufacturer, who lost his wife last night in Central park, has found her. With the aid of the police Mrs. Davis was traced to a hotel near the Fifty-ninth street entrance of the park, where she sought shelter when her husband failed to meet her as arranged. He had told her to meet him near the animal house, but by mistake she waited near the plaza entrance. When he failed to appear she appealed to a policeman, who suggested that she go to a nearby hotel. It was long after midnight before Mr. Davis found her there.

A Million Boys Under 18 Fought in Our Civil War

Surprising, but true. The greatest conflict of modern times was largely fought by actual boys in blue and boys in gray. And thousands of them yet live to tell of those stirring times. That is what makes the publication of the famous BRADY WAR PHOTOGRAPHS through The Sentinel all the more timely and fortunate. The veterans can see for themselves these pictures—taken just half a century ago, lost for many years, and now newly discovered. Perchance they can find their own likeness or that of a friend or relative here. Read the letter below—one of hundreds of such instances.

The Sentinel Offers in These Photographs Accurate and Impartial Record of the War

It is accurate because based on actual photographs—and the camera is truthful.

Because it is the result not alone of one camera's work but of many—working independently of each other, North and South.

Because the camera is the most exact of witnesses—seeing far more and better than the eye.

It is impartial because the best photographs on both sides have been secured.

Because the accompanying text has been prepared by unbiased writers on both sides.

Because the sole object has been to reinforce these wonderful pictures with all the facts as soon both North and South.

INCREASING FACILITIES

Wayne Oil Tank and Pump Works Building Addition to Factory.

EXTENDING THE SIGNAL SYSTEM

Workmen Engaged in Connecting Calhoun Street and Junction.

The Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company, which erected and moved into shops at the foot of Canal street, just north of the Nickel Plate tracks, two years ago, now finds the plant inadequate to the demands upon it and an addition for housing the tank department is in course of construction. The new building will be of steel and concrete construction, 70x200 feet in dimensions, with a spur track from the Nickel Plate running into it. The sides of the building, with the exception of the roof supporting columns, will be constructed chiefly of glass, making the interior as light as it is possible for a building to be. Lengthwise the center of the roof will be higher than will be the ten or fifteen feet nearest the two outer walls. This is for the purpose of providing ventilation and space for a five-ton traveling crane, which will have facilities for handling tanks and material in every part of the building. the concrete foundations are now in and work upon the steel structural part will be taken up in a few days. It is the purpose to complete and occupy the building by July 15. The Brooks Construction company is doing the concrete work and the steel part of the building is in the hands of the Pan-American bridge company, of New Castle, Ind. The factory site of the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company consists of six acres, with the south end abutting the Nickel Plate right-of-way. The buildings already occupied are provided with temporary ends on the north so that they can be extended whenever the necessity arises and in planning the new tank shop, the same idea was carried out. At the present rate of increase in the business of the concern, the management believes it will be only a few years until more additions to the buildings will be necessary. At present the entire factory is running full time and with all the men it can handle and the tank builders have been compelled to work twelve to thirteen hours three days in the week. The new shop, however, will admit of a larger force of workmen and it may be possible to eliminate overtime. At present the company employs upwards of 150 men. R. F. Discrens is the general manager, P. G. Olds the assistant and Mr. Tremper the factory foreman.

WILL DISCUSS OUTING.

Electric Relief Union Meets This Evening.

At the meeting of the Fort Wayne Electric Works' Mutual Benefit association this evening, the first regular meeting since the new constitution and by-laws were adopted and the name changed, the subject of an outing will come up for discussion. The excursions of this association have been second in a numerical way only to the annual outing of the Pennsylvania [illegible]. Two years ago the relief [illegible] 2,000 people [illegible] Po[illegible] excursion [illegible] was nearly [illegible] the railway [illegible] rates will, of cou[illegible] long excursion trip, but [illegible] an outing will be held.

MANY K. OF C. MOVING.

Chicago Delegation, 400 Strong, Goes East Tonight.

Two finely appointed special trains, each with ten cars, will pass through this city running as the second and third sections of the Pennsylvania limited this evening. They will carry 400 Knights of Columbus and members of their families to Washington, where they will attend the unveiling exercises of the Columbus monument. These people reside in Chicago and points west of that city. There will be a number of Fort Wayne Knights of Columbus attend the unveiling exercises also.

MANY GO TO WARSAW.

The Pennsylvania shop league base ball team will play the Warsaw team at that city Sunday morning and afternoon and the games are attracting much attention. The local shopmen are particularly interested and are preparing to go down to Warsaw 100 strong to "root" for the Pennsylvania team. The ball team and most of the "rooters" will go down to Warsaw Saturday night.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Engineers an Auxiliary Will Have Joint Services.

Fort Wayne division, No. 12, B. of L. E., [illegible] No. 18, B. of L. E. will hold a joint memorial service in the hall at 1018 Calhoun street, on Sunday afternoon, June 9, at 2 o'clock. All members of B. of L. E. and Ladies' Auxiliary and their friends are invited. Addresses will be given by Brother J. A. Nipper and Chester Durnell, chief of division 12, and Sister C. F. Somers, president of division 18. Psalms will be read by brothers and sisters of both orders. The flower service will be used.

AUTOMATIC SIGNAL.

Pennsylvania Is Extending System Into the City.

The signal department of the Pennsylvania is engaged at present in extending the automatic system from the junction, just west of the city, to Calhoun street. When this has been accomplished the only break in the system between Chicago and Pittsburg will be between Calhoun street and Hanna street, which will be covered just as soon as the matter of street openings, track elevation and a few other matters of controversy have been settled.

REGULAR TRAVEL HEAVY.

All the local passenger agents say regular travel in and out of Fort Wayne is much heavier than at this period last year. They attribute it to the refusal of the railways generally to make cheap Sunday or excursion rates. "Last year the local traveler timed his trip so as to take advantage of the cheap rates on Sunday," said Ed Haas, Wabash ticket agent. "There being no special rates on our lines on Sunday," he continued, "they go at a time most convenient and pay the fare. They go, all right enough." Mr. Haas also said that lake travel over the Wabash commenced earlier this than last season. Today he had three passengers for Montreal and two for Buffalo out of Fort Wayne.

TESTING THE "CEMENT GUN."

Division Engineer Guy Scott, of the Pennsylvania, is today conducting some experiments with a "cement gun" at Winona. The "cement gun" is designed for stucco work and it applies the cement or plaster pretty much as a woman sprays perfumery over herself on the eve of a shopping trip or a doctor handles an atomizer in treating a patient who has catarrh. Power for operating the "cement gun" is derived from a locomotive. Mr. Scott is chairman of the committee appointed by the Association of Railway Division Engineers to investigate and devise the best methods of doing stucco work.

OFF ON PLEASURE TRIP.

Passenger Conductor T. P. McArdle, of the Pennsylvania, left today on the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited on the first pleasure trip he has taken for several years. He is accompanied by Mrs. McArdle and their daughter, Miss Ethel, and their first stop will be at Washington, D. C., where they will witness the unveiling of the Columbus monument. Thence they will go to Old Point Comfort, Va., to spend the remaining days of his vacation.

WHITEWASHING THE SHOPS.

The annual housecleaning is now on at the Pennsylvania shops. The interior of the several departments is to be covered with whitewash and the whitewashing gang is now at work in the planing mills and car machine shop. Saturday noon they move to the blacksmith shop, where they will be busy three or four days.

The contract for the construction of 17,000 feet of fence around the site of the proposed Baldwin Locomotive works near Hammond, Ind., has been awarded to J. Wesley Reed of Hammond. The fence will be six feet high and will require in excess of 100,000 feet of lumber.

E. G. HOFFMAN IS HOME.

District Democratic Chairman to Call Meeting of County Leaders.

In the best of spirits and covered with a coat of tan which makes one think of a mid-summer vacation, Hon. Edward G. Hoffman returned to Fort Wayne Wednesday evening after having spent several weeks in northern Michigan on his honeymoon trip. Mr. Hoffman, who is district chairman of the democrats, went to his office this morning and found enough business awaiting him to engage him closely for some time.

Mr. Hoffman intends getting busy immediately in the district for the coming political campaign and announces that he will call a meeting of the Twelfth district county chairmen within a week or ten days. At this time, arrangements for the campaign will be formed and the Baltimore convention will be discussed. It is the desire of Mr. Hoffman to complete an organization and begin active work even prior to the national meeting. He is confident of a big democratic victory in November and states that all the party workers will pull together for the election of the entire ticket.

BROOM MAKES CONFESSION.

Admits Firing Shot Which Killed Landesville Merchant.

Marion, Ind., June 6.—When William O. Allison and Ralph E. Broom, arrested at separate times in South Dakota, under indictment charged with the murder of Wade Robinson, storekeeper at Landesville, Grant county, faced each other in jail here yesterday, each accused the other of having fired the shot that ended Robinson's life while he was battling with them to prevent them robbing his store on the night of December 28, last year, but later Broom confessed he fired the fatal shot. He said the revolver he had was of peculiar make and easily discharged and that when he struck Robinson over the head with the firearm, he let go, killing the storekeeper. He said he accused Allison of the crime because he thought Allison would not be caught and the court would give him a lighter sentence.

WOOL PRICES HIGH THIS YEAR

From Five to Seven Cents a Pound Higher Than Last Season.

MARKET IS ACTIVE

The price of wool is from 5 to 7c a pound higher this season than it was last. This is because of the shortage, the supply being 10,000,000 pounds less than that of last year. The consequence is that the mills are hustling for it and the dealers are offering the higher prices to get it. The local quotations, as given by Well Bros. & Co., are 25 and 24 cents for unwashed and 35 and 25 cents for washed wool.

The wool season was unusually slow in opening this year because of the cool weather that hung on so long. It is now at its heighth, however, and wool is commencing to come in in large quantities. The season lasts all through the summer and Fort Wayne will be a large center for the trade.

The country around Fort Wayne is good wool producing territory. The bright wool states are Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Michigan, with sections also of Iowa and Minnesota. With the present high prices prevailing, the former is fortunate who has a large flock of sheep this year, and there are many such in Allen county and the other counties of northeastern Indiana.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—Wheat showed weakness today on account of the fact that the rains in Kansas ruding the last twenty-four hours, though not heavy, were general. September started at $1.04⅞@1.05 to $1.05 and fell to $1.04⅜@1.04⅜.

Subsequently dust storm damage in the Dakotas and alleged hopeless crop prospects in southern Illinois tended to bring about an upturn. The effect, however, did not last. Closing prices were steady at $1.04⅜ for September, a net decline of ⅝c.

July corn opened at 73½c to 73¾c, but rallied to 72⅝c.

An advance, owing to many advices of replanting in Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois. The close was steady with July at 74¼c, a net gain of ¼c.

A drop in the price of oats stimulated buying that more than wiped out the decline. July started at 50½c to 50⅝@50⅝c, and recovered to 50⅝@50⅝c.

An advance at the yards put stiffness into the provision market. Initial sales with September delivery were $18.85 for pork, $11.07½ to $11.10 for lard, and $10.40 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, June 6.—General strength was shown by stocks at today's opening. Amalgamated Copper advanced a full point. Other strong features included steel, the southern group of railroads, the coal stocks and Erie second preferred. The only stock to show a decline was Canadian Pacific, which fell 1⅛.

Trading in the early session of the stock exchange today was the largest of any similar period this week, while the diversity of dealings was in keeping with the greater activity. Reading and Lehigh Valley were again conspicuous features, but the more material gains were in such specialties as beet sugar and some of the dormant steel shares. Recessions from the top were general by noon. Bonds were firm.

The market closed strong. Union Pacific, the Hill issues, Amalgamated Copper and Steel made their best prices in the last hour with a revival of early activity. Reading, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific and some other standard stocks later fell back.

WHO'S [illegible]

Being a Short Essay on [illegible] Who Refused to [illegible] R. a Ticket [illegible] Convention.

COL. [illegible]

If a certain notorious steam roller, heretofore widely mentioned in the public prints, should get loose at Chicago on or about June 18 and careen madly amuck through the patriotic federal job holders there assembled in convention—

And if—while the band blares "Dixie"—it should mash into half of the republican party of the southland—meaning those contesting delegations—

And if in so doing, said roller should ruthlessly crush the belligerent hopes of our well known and highly 'steemed people's champeen, to-wit, Theodore R. ("R" stands for "rex" if you're seeing red)—

Then, we may hazard without fear of contradiction, that no briny tears will fall from the manly eyes of Col. Harry S. New. In fact, if one were in the hazarding business, one might well haz a few hazes that sardonic grin would trickle o'er Col. New's nether lip.

Col. New, being the man who, with much politeness and equal firmness, holds his charitable impulses in check and refuses to come across with convention tickets for Col. Roosevelt's personal use.

It's no Damon and Pythias business between Col. New and Col. Roosevelt. Mayhap, 'tis a case of military jealousy, both gents wearing that kernel thing with great eclat, ever since the terrible carnage of '98, when one led the gallant rough riders up a hill and the other staff-officered where'er duty lisped.

Or perhaps this highly regretable gulf between two statesmen grew out of that suit for libel which we United States filed, at T. R.'s request, against Delavan Smith, editor of the Indianapolis News, when the News stuck the Panama canal full of question marks. For Col. New is a warm personal friend of Smith's.

Anyhow, New will steam-roll for fair if he gets a chance—and T. R. doesn't blow the whole dinged machine out the window with one furious balst.

Not to comment despairingly upon the age of a thin-skinned politician, it may be remarked that Col. New isn't as new as his name and his actions might indicate to the T. R. fanatic. Nor so old. [illegible] eyes [illegible] ago [illegible] disguises [illegible] on a clean shave every morn, along with a general fruit sale a firm handclasp.

Indiana's [illegible] state and home. Lots of people there like him. And lots don't.

New plays the game, according to his lights, and takes his medicine when he's licked. His fights may not be the same that shine on we'uns who believe in real popular rule, but New basks in them honestly and joyously. He's a large, likeable person with a strong, throaty voice that minces no mince.

He began life as a newspaper man and stuck to it for twenty-five years. He was editor of the old Indianapolis Journal and made himself and his newspaper powerful. He has been a member of the republican national committee for twelve years and was its chairman in 1907-8.

As director general of a national convention nobody has anything on Col. New. And nobody will more cheerfully act as chief grinner at the obsequies if the steam-roller hits T. R.

If it does.

PAUL HARRIS IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Young Man Charged With Murder of Mother is Acquitted.

ACTS QU[illegible]

[illegible] June 6.—Hundreds of [illegible] and [illegible] for the [illegible] friends of [illegible] Harris [illegible] guilty of having killed his mother [illegible] terday afternoon at 5:55 [illegible] walked from [illegible] court room exonerated of the charge [illegible] and restored, after [illegible] the defense [illegible] the following verdict has seldom [illegible] in the little courtroom. The demonstration was not audible, but was more pathetic because of its silence.

Those who congratulated Paul Harris were not alone his relatives, who have been close by his side throughout the trial, but friends who had remained in expectation of an early verdict.

The jury received the congratulations of every one in the room. Before the reading of the verdict Judge Blair warned the spectators against a demonstration, either for or against the action of the jury.

The moment was a tense one, and every eye was fixed on the bit of paper that bore the decree of guilt or innocence.

Following the reading there was an instant of silence, then Paul Harris buried his face in his wife's arms. Mrs. Harris broke down, unable to restrain her emotion. The five-months-old baby was not in court.

The verdict meets with general approval in Rush county. The evidence against Harris was entirely circumstantial and of such a character as to lay suspicion on him.

The courtroom was crowded all day, but when Judge Blair finished reading the instructions only a few remained, as it was expected the jury might possibly be out for many hours.

The news that a verdict had been returned spread like wild fire, and when the acquitted man was seen on the streets a few moments later he was besieged by his friends and had difficulty in making his way to the home of a relative. Because of the prominence of the family involved the case has attracted great attention.

NINTH WARDERS HAVE A MEETING

Urge Street Openings and Straightening of St. Mary's.

REPORTS ARE HEARD

The Barthold street committee of the North Side Civic Improvement association, last night at a meeting of the organization submitted a report which informed members of the association that the board of public works looks with favor upon the proposition of widening [illegible] and extending the thoroughfare. A petition asking for the straightening of the channel of the St. Mary's river through the Ninth ward was indorsed and will be placed in circulation within a few days.

A number of Spy Run residents attended the meeting and urged the opening of Elizabeth street and opening of Barr street north from Elizabeth street to Spy Run avenue at the Centlivre brewery. A number of other matters were discussed by the members, who were urged to co-operate in making the Foster park dedication a success.

A committee composed of Charles J. Steiss, Elson Brosius and F. W. Krueper submitted a report urging the wider use of public school buildings as recreation centers for the community in which they are located. Is is the belief of the committee that schools should serve as social centers, that evening courses and frequent entertainments should be held and that the citizens should co-operate with the school authorities in making the schools a meeting place where residents may obtain broader ideas on civic, social and commercial life. The committee also recommended a plan of teaching commercial studies in the high and common schools, better enabling those who cannot afford to take special courses in business to later rub elbows with the world. They recommended this by extending the common school course one year and give two years' business course in the high school.

The report was enthusiastically received and approved by the members of the Ninth ward association.

CITY BREVITIES.

The formal opening of the new Bogenschuetz delicatessen store at 210 West Berry street occurred last evening, and the new establishment was visited by more than 1,000 between the hours of 7:30 and 10 o'clock. The salesroom was handsomely decorated and an orchestra furnished musical entertainment for the guests.

Announcement is made that former County Chairman Miser, of Whitley county, is to also act as an assistant sergeant-at-arms at the republican national convention at Chicago. So far this gives the Twelfth district six officials of this rank.

Miss Haag, a trained nurse, who for some time has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, suffering from a nervous breakdown, is steadily improving. It will be some time, however, before she is able to return to her profession.
